SUBJECT: Contributions to Executive Development
Core Course No. 3

1. The Executive Development Staff, Office of Training and Education, conducted Executive Development Core Course No. 3, 19 February - 1 March 1985, for newly promoted SIS-01 officers. The second week of the Course was a seminar on terrorism as an Agency and Intelligence Community issue. Several managers and senior analysts from your office shared organizational approaches, interactions, trends, concerns, successes and failures experienced in dealing with the terrorism problem. Their presentations were very informative and well-received. If it was not already perceived by the Course participants, it became apparent during the discussions that terrorism is a non-conventional and hard target for intelligence collection and analysis.

2. I want to thank you for making the officers available, and to commend them for their contribution to the program. Please express my appreciation to:
